

WILSON ANDRES
serving in SAN JUAN, KALYAAN

Dear Prayer Partners,

For the past five years, our God has really revealed His power and love for us. He has worked mightily in our lives by supplying our material needs and by causing us to be willing to continue working in His vineyard. Yes, there are many incidents that push us to leave the ministry, but by the grace of God, we continue to follow His calling. I surely believe that not only the financial help of White Fields but your faithfulness and concern for us through your righteous prayers have brought us to today. I appreciate that our God allowed me to be included in your program.

My oldest son, Gideon, is now in his fourth year of college and next year he will graduate in electrical engineering. My second child, Amelus, is a second-year college student, studying IT at AMA Computer College. Amybless is already in her first year of high school. My desire for my children is that they will win souls for Christ. May this coming new year be a different atmosphere in our household as we focus on our theme: God is on the move. We must work for the Lord with more passion.

As we embark on a new development for our ministry in 2012, we want to thank White Fields for supporting us for the past four years. The Lord has blessed us with people who are now growing in His grace. They are a great help to us as they involve themselves in the ministry work, particularly in the areas of evangelism and discipleship. I thank God that our ministry is slowly gaining ground, despite our ups and downs.

We continue to hold our worship services in our house church and we are continuing our involvement with para-church organizations, helping people, especially the youth. We are helping to train them in livelihood skills and entrepreneurship so they will have some extra income. We are also helping them grow in their knowledge of the Bible. I thank God we have several young people who are contemplating entering Bible school to be trained as church workers.

Our giving in the church is slow. The reason is that there are few members who have jobs that would allow them to share their income. However, I am always thankful despite this because God sustains everyone—especially His workers in the ministry. We trust God will provide for all our needs as we plan for the new direction of the ministry in this place.

Thank you, again, for your help and support of the ministry. We will continue to remember your partnership with us. May the good Lord continue to use your ministry and ours to bring more souls into the kingdom of God. Again, thank you very much.

Blessings,

Pastor Wilson Andres
