Dear Prayer Partners,

Greetings in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ!

We, my two daughters and I, would like to thank you for your desire to include us in your prayers.

The sudden death of my husband, Pastor Roy, is really painful to me as his wife. We had a wonderful time together, roaming about the pioneering area the day before he was taken to the hospital. I saw his deep passion to always be in the ministry. He never stopped studying the word of God. He even sat with many professors to get more ideas and to be more effective as a church planter. He had a great dedication for the ministry.

Sometimes I wonder why God took him home at the early age of 50. Humanly thinking, he could do more in God's vineyard, but Revelation 14:13 comforts me: "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on!" "Yes," says the Spirit, "so that they may rest from their labors, for their deeds follow with them."

We need your prayers specifically for God's guidance and direction. As for the moment, we are planning and already looking for a new place to move because of my younger daughter's schooling. She just graduated high school and is applying for entrance exams to different state colleges. May the Lord lead us to the right place and to the right school. Pray also for wisdom and protection for my older daughter who works every night. She is a graduate of Christian education, but is currently working as a call center agent to augment our income.

I am a teacher, but am considering looking for a new job that will allow me more time with my younger daughter as she enters college. Pray for the Lord's leading. Wherever we may be, may God use us as a channel of blessing to others.

Thank you once again for praying for us during this difficult time.

In Christ,

Mavis Casido
