

HONESTO MACARILAY
serving in MOLINO, BACOR CAVITE

Dear Prayer Partners,

We praise the Lord for adding new families to our fellowship. We thank Him for giving us the wisdom and strength as we continue to minister to His people. The Eugenio family has been attending our church for a month now. Prior to this, the couple had been expressing their desire to learn God's word, but would always give us excuses as to why they could not join us. They somehow thought that by going to church, they would be forced to adapt to our teaching. However, when they did finally come, they learned that their assumption was wrong. My wife has befriended Mrs. Eugenio; please pray that the Lord will work through this relationship. No one in the family has professed faith in Christ, but they do desire to learn more about Him. Please pray for their salvation.

The past two months have been very rainy. Here in my area, it rains almost every day and we find it hard to do our usual visitation and follow-up. Some of our Bible studies have been postponed because of flooding in the area. So when the weather turns good, we will have a lot of catching up to do. We thank the Lord that despite these times, my assistants do not become weary of serving with me. Thank God that in this situation, He never fails to lead us to where the harvest is ripe. Please pray for our protection as we travel.

We greatly thank the Lord for His blessings to my family and me. We thank Him that in spite of the poor weather, we continue to have good health. Some of our brethren in the church became sick because of the change in weather. Pray that God will heal those who are ill.

I also praise God for giving me another opportunity to attend STEP, a seminar conducted by White Fields. It was a blessing to learn from men of God and to fellowship with my co-workers in the field. We shared our difficulties and challenges, and encouraged and prayed for one another. We prayed that the Lord will continue to use us as we anticipate more challenges in our calling. Right now I am starting to teach my congregation the lessons that I learned at the seminar. The lesson on the passion week of Christ has given me so many insights that I want my congregation to learn also. I am kind of slow in teaching it to them, but I want to take my time so that they will really understand what the passage is all about. Please continue praying for my ministry, that the people will be consistent in learning God's word.
