Dear Prayer Partners,

The Lord is great. Beyond the trials and hardships, my heart remains filled with hope and is comforted by God's promises. I thank God for the life of Mrs. Luz Cornelio, a native resident whom I met while conducting a home Bible study. She is a Roman Catholic and a lady assistant to a priest. We talked about salvation and she had many questions. During our conversation, she was at first very defensive of her faith. But God's word spoke to her heart until she surrendered herself to the Lord. Praise God! She is now an active member of our church and shares God's word with other people, especially her neighbors whom she invites to study the Bible.

We are grateful to God for the physical and spiritual healing of Mrs. Deria Guadalope. She came to us for prayer after she was told she had gallstones. Through prayer and faith, the Lord gradually gave her physical healing. Today she is completely healed of the gallstones, and she has surrendered her life to Jesus.

We thank you, our dear prayer partners, for helping us. There have been many pressures and difficulties in this ministry, but the Lord has His own way of leading us towards fulfilling our goals. We have our weekly visitation and follow-up work with those who have expressed a desire to know God. People are generally willing to listen, but what prevents them from studying with us is their desire to earn a living. Poverty is everywhere. This is one struggle that the church faces, but we, too, are trying to become self-sustaining in our finances. Nevertheless, with all the needs around us, the more we see that God is the One who will sustain us.

My family is doing fine. My children were sick with colds for a time due to the weather conditions. The Lord always reminds us to trust Him in all situations.

Please be in prayer for me as I train faithful believers to help me in the ministry. Right now I have two men who go with me as I conduct Bible studies and do personal visitations. Please pray that the Lord will use them mightily in the kingdom. Pray that as the believers gain wisdom and knowledge, that they will be led to serve Christ in the church.

Gratefully,

Pastor Loreto Nerona
